2016-2017 Ram Leadership Team Application

Thank you for considering applying for a position in the 2015-2016 Ram Leadership Team (RLT). Please take the time to read the team descriptions and important information and dates carefully. The application process involves submitting this written application and, if offered, an interview. Below you will find important information regarding the Ram Leadership Team as well as materials and dates required for applying.

What is the Ram Leadership Team?
The Ram Leadership Team (RLT) is a program for first-year students that provides participants with opportunities to become better leaders, more engaged students, and more closely connected to the CSU community. Through service, leadership training, and fun social programming, members of the RLT program can develop themselves and their ideas of what it means to be a CSU Ram.

Meetings are held once a week, throughout the academic year, with each meeting focusing on a different theme in order to develop a variety of leadership and service skills. These skills can be applied to exciting volunteer projects and other involvement opportunities around campus. You can also create strong relationships with other team members, members of ASCSU, and the CSU community. If you have Ram Pride and a passion for making a difference, Ram Leadership Team is for you!

Ram Leadership Team Mission
Our mission is to build a team of individuals who are committed to personal growth, involvement, and the CSU community through leadership education, effective service, and building strong relationships.

Application Timeline
- August 1st – Applications are available at ascsu.colostate.edu/ram-leadership-team.
- September 9th – Applications are due. They may be submitted to the front desk, neatly handwritten or typed, or electronically (Word or PDF) to frontdesk@ascsu.colostate.edu.
